

Fifth Annual Fordham International & Comparative Urban Law Conference

June 21st & 22nd 2018

Sponsored by:

Urban Law Center

Mackenzie Presbyterian
University

UN-Habitat

About the Conference

The International & Comparative Urban Law Conference, sponsored by the Fordham Urban Law Center, Mackenzie Presbyterian University, and UN-Habitat is gathering scholars at Mackenzie's campus in São Paulo, Brazil, for the fifth annual global conversation about urban law from international, comparative and interdisciplinary perspectives. The intersection of law and urbanism raises vital, pressing questions about urban governance, the structure and scope of local authority, and the role of law in the entire urban experience.

THE URBAN LAW CENTER THANKS

Geeta Tewari and Wanda Ward for their valuable work in organizing the conference. The Center also thanks Stephen Eichinger and the Communications Department of Fordham Law School, for their support with conference materials and logistics. The Center thanks UN-Habitat for its sponsorship and continued support of our work. Lastly, the Center thanks Lilian R. G. M. Pires, Igor Badon Powell Mendes Rosa and the faculty and staff of Mackenzie Presbyterian University for their support, sponsorship, and hosting of this collaborative effort.
